intelligent, broad and sold course of administration. The Republican party has grown stronger under his leadership, and will enter the great contest of 1884 deserving and confident of the continued trust of the nation. N. Gorr, Ja. Clarksburg, W. Va., August 1, 1883.

The trouble between the telegraph con panies and their late employees—perhaps it abbuld be said the trouble between the Western Union Telegraph Company and its late employees—has brought up for discussion the general question of telegraphic communication. And it may be remarked that this method of communication has so entered into the national life, has become so important a part of our commercial ac tivity, that the Supreme Court of the United States has placed it on the high ground of inter-state commerce. No State may therefore throw any obstacle in the way. But a powerful combination of capitalists does obstruct this important feature of inter-state commerce; in time of peace, by excessive charges to draw dividends on fic titious value; in time of war-this is a war time-by its inability to serve the public satisfactorily while it is conducting a cam paign against its former employees.

Director Startevant concludes from experiments at the Geneva Station that orchard grass is worthy of a place in a mixture of pasture seeding; the same of tall meadow oats grass; fescue grass appears to posees little usefulness in presence of our better varieties; tall fescue has value for pasture; timothy seems only to be grown successfully by itself in rotation with wheat upon our rich soils;" June grass is able to withstand severe drouth on account of its deep rooting habit; "as a matter of common observation, the non-tuffing species have ever been more popular for the purpose of cultivation than those which form tussocks." The relations between the public and this worst form of monopoly are, under the most favorable conditions, strained and intolerable. Thus far no rival to the Western Union, giving any promise of affording relief, has been able to live. The Western Union Company maintains a graveyard in which it buries those enterpries which get in its way. The ceremony goes by the name of consolidation, but i is nevertheless interment without the hope of resurrection. Witness the Pacific and Atlantic, the Southern and Atlantic, the Atlantic and Pacific, the American Union, last of all the Mutual Union with 40,000 miles of wire. The history of one is the

Perhaps the Postal Telegraph Company, just born, may prove to be the great rival we are looking for; by the time it becomes of much service it will probably go the way its predecessors went. It may be that the Baltimore & Ohio system will be pushed until it can offer full competition with the Western Union. This we should not expect to see absorbed by the Western Union unless the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company were absorbed at the same time -a little more than Mr. Gould and his friends will attempt to bite off.

But while we are waiting for the deliver DIKD.

WARDEN-On Thurday morning, August 9, 1883, at 8 o'clock, Jissia A., wife of W. J. Warden, in the 27d year of her age.

Funeral from the residence of her hunband, Edgington's Lane, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends of the family are invited. Interment at Greenwood Cemetery.

SOITAD-On Wednesday morning, August 8, 1833 at 1 o'clock, Warlinas Ernab, aged 71 years, 6 months and 28 days.

The funeral will take place Friday morning at 15 o'clock, from the 1to rollence of decessed, No. 4812 East street. Friends of the family are respect fully invited to sattered. er what are we going to do about it? It happens that the Government can well come to the relief, with profit to itself and with great advantage to the people. It is not necessary, certainly it is not desirable, to purchase the Western Union system, based upon stock abnormally distended with "water." It is quite likely that Mr. Gould would be willing to unload water and all on the Government, but that is not the best thing for the country.

Let Mr. Gould hold on to his system Let anybody who desires build telegraph Let Congress authorize the Post Office Department to construct a system of telegraph to be used in connection with the railroad mail service. There is a surplus in the Treasury and under existing laws the prospective diminution of the revenues is not great. It has been estimated that the whole Western Union system can be duplicated for $20,000,000 as an outside figure. Mr. Gould's company is able to pay six per cent. on four times that sum and lay up a surplus The Government could make a large re duction in tolls and still earn a profit which might in time enable it to give u one cent postage.

There would be no monopoly about this and there can be no other objection to it. BREAKFAST BUJGET.

Dean Sir.—The President has the confidence of our people regardless of party; while Republicans, with unusual unanimity, approve of his course and regard his administration as a great success. He has been just to his party, true to his country. The Presidency came to him during great excitement, in an hour of profound sorrow, when all sections were aroused and his own party divided. At first our people, regarding him as the leader of a faction, the divided has been divided by the divided his wife and moderate course, aided in establishing tranquility and producing prosperity they wandered; and now when he has filled the Presidential office near two years, they admire the intelligent, broad and solid course of his administration. The Republican party has administration.

Paiker-bry Sale Journal. The Wheeling INTELLIGENCER of Monday contained a startling—no, we take that back—a "what-you might-have expected" exposure of some of the disgraceful and high handed outrages perpetrated at the State Insane Asylum. The true facts in the case, which are susceptible of proof, are that the management of this institution is a burning, shameless disgrace to the State. Keeping strictly within bounds it would be hard to characterize the conduct of some of the officials too severely. We have good Democratic authority for what we are saying, too. It is not a Republican arraignment but a Democratic one. The diegraceful condition of affairs will be investigated sooner or later, but the sooner the better for all concerned.

Mrs. Milo Ingram gave the names of some of the most reputable physicians in the two cities (Pittaburgh and Allegheny), to whom she had paid large shum of money for treatment, but she rapidly grew worse.
